

This Week in NYC: May 1-7

MAY 1, 2017 BY ANN LOUISE

We're feeling refreshed and ready to take on the week after such a gorgeous weekend. From where to celebrate Cinco de Mayo and the Kentucky Derby, to various food events, see what's going on in New York this week.

Friday

Cinco de Mayo falls on a Friday this year, which means you can go all-out celebrating this fun holiday. Fortunately, the party options here in NYC are endless. Check out Davio's Manhattan for a rooftop fiesta featuring a custom margarita bar, Mexican beer and house wine, a selection of Mexican-inspired steakhouse bites, a photo booth, and a piñata filled with more than $500 worth of prizes. Speaking of rooftop fiestas, Mr. Purple is also offering food and drink specials on Cinco de Mayo and has a killer view of Manhattan that can't be beat. Recently opened Street Taco will be serving up cheap eats and drinks all weekend long, including $1 chicken tinga tacos and $6 margaritas. If you're in Midtown, quench your thirst with $5 tequila shots and $5 Mexican beers at Haven Rooftop, where you can also dance the night away to a live DJ. Various locations.
