
NYC's Best Alfresco Brunches 2018

Temperatures are rising. The sun is finally coming out to say hello. And moms are flocking to NYC to celebrate Mother's Day with their beloved offspring. We love patio dining here in New York—most likely because of the prime people watching, but don't tell mama that! Get dolled up in your favorite sundresses and book your reservations for an alfresco brunch today.

Here are our top picks for notable outdoor brunches throughout NYC this year.

Haven Rooftop

Perched atop the Sanctuary Hotel, Haven Rooftop's sun-soaked rooftop is a great option for those spending time in Midtown. A cross between a nightclub and a rooftop garden, Haven offers classic brunch entrees like eggs Benedict and brunch pizza with the option to up the ante with unlimited beverages for an extra price. This Mother's Day, Haven will offer a special prix-fix menu for just $39, which includes an appetizer, entree, dessert, and glass of prosecco so you can toast to your mom in style. 132 West 47th Street, New York
