EPISTROPHY

A name that is a nod to great jazz and artful living, Epistrophy was founded by a group of friends from Sardinia, Italy, who fell so in love with New York City that they decided never to leave. The goal of opening their very own restaurant was to bring a sense of authentic Italian cuisine and culture to Downtown Manhattan and to create a sense of belonging for locals and tourists alike. The organic and locally sourced menus are available for breakfast, lunch and dinner. On Mother’s Day the Nolita restaurant will be serving their regular a-la-carte menu as brunch from 9am-12pm. Mom can expect to enjoy a mix of traditional Italian brunch dishes like the Pane Frattau (Sardinian flatbread) as well as more Italian-American Classics like fluffy Lemon Ricotta Pancakes. Selections of teas, coffees, and brunch cocktails are also available. Info: 200 Mott Street; epistrophynyc.com.
